Warhammer Alliance Club at KLA

The War Hammer Alliance at King's Lynn Academy has returned after the hafterm break.

Before the break the WHA at KLA begun preparing for our Age of Sigmar and 40K mini-tournaments that will starting very soon. If anyone wants to compete, armies must be 500 points only and the AOS units have certain other rules so its worth asking to make sure.

Also with having new members starting, we completed the painting of some of the minis that we use in the games to add an extra level of detail; with special mention going to Andreea in Year 7 for showing impressive skill and attention to detail in her first painting session.

Next week the War Hammer Alliance will be finishing some of the painting and begin preparing for our muti mini-tournament which will begin after the Easter break (annoyingly, some Thursdays are being disrupted by Squigs getting into the works)
